Do you work with or serve youth at your school?

This training will teach you to honor LGBTQ+ identities and create affirming space to connect youth to preventative county resources.

The RISE model training works with youth, parents, caregivers, schools, and child welfare professionals to create understanding and combat LGBT bias that too frequently results in the mistreatment and misunderstanding of LGBTQ+ youth. RISE is recognized as one of the leading LGBTQ+ programs addressing the disproportionate outcomes for youth with an ever-expanding permanent connection between policy development, training and coaching, and advocacy to achieve systems-level change.
