Be open to communicating with students throughout the day and evening.

Set classroom rules for live lessons.

Set rules for work submission. How? When?

Consider how to work with students remotely, considering confidentiality requirements.
Work with school administration to determine how students and families request and receive support.

Provide frequent and consistent communication.

Provide a calming influence to students as needed.

Share tips for parents and students on staying motivated and self-care.

You are the expert!
TIPS FOR TEACHERS AND COUNSELORS

Don’t forget - you. Set boundaries with your time and availability.

Provide a calming influence to students as needed.

Communicate frequently but set boundaries.

You should not be available 24/7.